

Anvil Cases ATA Shipping case for Music, Sound and Lighting

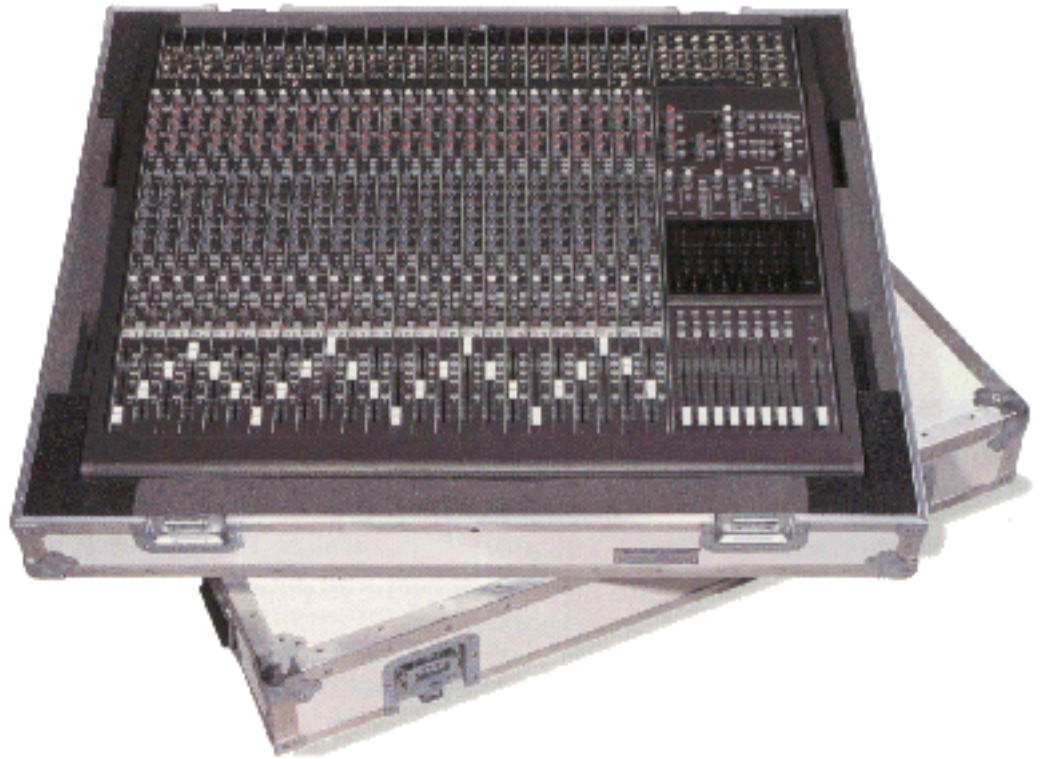

Whatever your gig may be, you can rely on Anvil cases to guard your valuable instruments and equipment from transit and storage damage.

Designed to protect even the most fragile and sensitive equipment, Anvil cases are recognized worldwide as the most durable reusable transit cases. Using carefully selected exterior and interior components, each Anvil case is individually crafted from the inside out to the exact specifications of your equipment. A combination of precision engineering, high-grade materials and expert craftsmanship ensures that you are provided with the most reliable reusable transit case available.

From guitar cases to shock-mounted rack mixing consoles, Anvil cases meet the challenge. The tough, exterior wall construction guards against equipment damage, while flawless and functional case interiors offer uncompromising fit and protection.

Anvil cases are made to fit the exact specifications of your equipment, offering you uncompromising fit and protection. Whether you're in a garage band or on your way to Carnegie Hall, Anvil cases are the professional choice for musicians worldwide.

- Our ATA cases utilize exterior panels of ACX plywood laminated with ABS plastic, fiberglass and aluminum, and are supported by an outer frame of strong, lightweight aluminum edging secured by machine-driven split steel rivets.
- Anvil's ArmorLite cases are constructed with Nielson/Sessions Duralite aluminum hardware and a low density, extruded polyethylene core sandwiched by two aluminum skins.
- Forge II cases are manufactured with vulcanized or Duraline fibre secured with split steel rivets. Nylon webbing straps with buckles are used for fastening case lids.
- All case interiors utilize soft, resilient, unicellular foam sculptured around each piece of equipment to create a secure and complete fit.
